CHIROPRACTOR CONVICTED OF MURDER

MARSHALL IS FOUND GUILTY OF SLAYING ANNA MAY DIETRICH

Verdict Of Second Degree Carries 10 to 20 Years

By United Press
PHILADELPHIA, March 24.—David L. Marshall, chiropractor, today was found guilty of second degree murder for the killing of his milliner sweetheart, Anna May Dietrich, whose body he dismembered after choking her to death in his office last January.

The verdict marks the end of one of the most spectacular trials in the criminal history of the state.

It carries a sentence of from ten to twenty years imprisonment.

Miss Dietrich met her death in Marshall's office in Philadelphia, on the evening of Tuesday, January 19. Two days later her dismembered torso and legs were found in a wood near Rose Tree, Delaware county, twelve miles from Philadelphia and the body partially identified the same night by relatives.

A two day search through the country-side by police and bands of citizens resulted in the finding of the girl's head, wrapped in bloody newspapers under a railroad trestle at Taylor Run Creek, on the outskirts of Philadelphia, ten miles from where the body was found.

Marshall, as a friend of Miss Dietrich was arrested and questioned on the day following discovery of the head.

Following a grilling, he confessed dismembering the body in his office after the girl, as he claimed, had died from taking poison.

The case was then transferred to the jurisdiction of Philadelphia authorities.

Marshall was brought from Media to this city and signed a confession in which he admitted choking his sweetheart after a quarrel in which she attempted to extort money from him under threats of exposing intimacies between them for eight years. He was indicted on charges of murder and voluntary and involuntary manslaughter. He was placed on trial March 8.

Sentence was deferred by Judge McDevitt presiding, pending the appeal by Marshall's counsel. Notice was given and the defense allotted the usual four days for filing the appeal.

JUSTICES OF PEACE FORCED TO RESIGN

CLEVELAND, O., March 24.—The word "finis" was expected to be written today on the careers of two Cuyahoga County "raiding" justices of the peace.

County Prosecutor Edward C. Stanton ordered Justice R. R. Hawkins of Dover Village, to suspend his court immediately and Common Pleas Judge C. H. Woods was expected to declare illegal the office held by Justice H. H. Ayer, of Mayfield Heights Village.

Hawkins was recently arrested and forced to pay a fine of $100 and costs after being convicted of extortion. Ayers, according to evidence brought in Judge Woods' court was said to have been "splitting" fees with his raiders, and was said to have employed men with criminal records, on his payroll.

WHAT PRICE GOVERNMENT?
PARIS, March 24.—With the structure of French finance so weakened that it cannot bear the weight of the country's ordinary expenses, the Chamber of Deputies today ignored the pressing question to debate a bill which would prohibit the sale of "all day suckers."

Prohibition was postponed on medical grounds. Deputy, Guérin, a druggist, opposed the measure in a long speech. Radical deputies protested the childish proceedings would cost the chamber valuable time.

DIPLOMATIC CORPS REFUSES TO PERMIT USE OF FOREIGNERS

Abandon Plan To Defend Peking With Other Troops

By United Press
PEKING, March 24.—It is reliably learned that the diplomatic corps today rejected a proposal for the neutralization of Peking and use of foreign, including American troops, to defend the capital against the advancing forces of General Chang Tso Lin and his allies.

The Kuomintang or nationalist troops now in control of the Peking area, but hard pressed by Chang, may suddenly withdraw from the capital and permit it to be taken without opposition.

The diplomatic corps refused the neutralization proposal after two secret sessions, during which one so far unidentified minister opposed the proposal.

It is understood that the suggestion came from the nationalist headquarters which had hoped that the diplomats would refer the demand to the foreign office, after which foreign troops could have been employed to defend the capital.

Nationalist spokesmen today called upon the government to carry out its pledge to preserve order in the capital.

Chang and his allies Wu Pei Fu and Li Ching Ling, have already captured Tien Tsin from the Nationalists in their campaign to gain the entire Peking area.

The nationalist troops were last reported falling back from all fronts.

AUDIT BOOKS AFTER AUTOMOBILE AGENT COMMITTS SUICIDE

Decide Marion Man Died of Shock By Leap Into Lake

MARION, O., March 24.—Officials of the Ford Motor Co. here, began an audit today of the books of Dick Bruin, 40, president of the company, whose body was recovered from Crystal Lake near here Monday night.

Relatives today declared Bruin committed suicide following a nervous breakdown.

Both relatives and friends at first insisted Bruin had been slain and his body thrown into the lake.

Puzzled when no water was found in Bruin's lungs, the coroner conducted a postmortem examination and later announced Bruin had died from heart failure, induced, he said by shock from the cold waters of the lake.

Two letters addressed to Bruin's wife and which the man left on the bank of the lake, were opened but the contents were not made public.

In announcing they would examine Bruin's books, company officials said they did not expect to reveal anything of tangible nature. Bruin was well fixed financially, they said.

RIVER FALLS AFTER ICE GORGE LEAVES

FRANKLIN, Pa., March 24.—The great ice gorge, responsible for the flood conditions which caused $4,925,000 damage at Franklin and Oil City was only a memory today.

The movement of ice from this district began Sunday night, has been completed and today the Allegheny River has fallen to 10.2 feet one foot below flood level.

The temperature today was twenty-nine degrees and with no rain falling, all danger of further floods was believed passed.

URGES PROPER EQUIPMENT
Miss Neville will give special instruction in the choice of kitchen equipment that simplifies and improves cookery. MARK THE DATES
The school is open and free of charge to every housewife in the county. These are the dates to be remembered: Tuesday March 30, Wednesday March 31, Thursday April 1, Friday April 2.

RULING OF SUPREME COURT ENDS RACING WAGER LITIGATION

Sentences Will Be Executed When Mandate Arrives

As result of action of the state supreme court in upholding the lower courts in conviction of four Greene County men for recording bets and permitting taking of bets on race horses, the last avenue by which his clients may have stood a chance of acquittal, has apparently been closed, according to Attorney Charles L. Darlington, counsel for the four men.

Supreme court, in ruling made Tuesday, sustained the state law against taking bets on race horses and overruled appeals in the case brought up by the local attorney.

Cases are those of Bruce J. Leveck, Jamestown, and Albert Smith this city charged with two offenses of recording wagers on race horses and John Hornick and Horace E. Prince this city charged with permitting rooms to be used for this purpose.

Leveck and Smith were fined a total of $800 and costs each and sentenced to twenty days in the County Jail when they were convicted in a jury trial in Probate Court.

Prince and Hornick received fines of $300 and costs each. The four will probably have to pay the fines and two will serve sentences in jail.

Execution of the sentences will not start until official notification of the decision in the form of a mandate from the supreme court is received.

Ruling of the supreme court established a precedent in one angle of the Ohio anti-gambling law in its decision the state is not required to prove the race upon which wagers are made was actually run, in order to obtain a conviction.

This was the sole defense introduced by defense counsel. The state successfully contended this point did not effect the case, as the law clearly forbids recording of wagers.

Convictions were obtained in probate court and the court of common pleas. The court of appeals sustained the lower court ruling.

Prosecutor J. Carl Marshall declared the convictions will be executed when the official record has been certified to Greene County.

The four men are at liberty under bond.

FIX WAGE SCALE

SHAWNEE, O., Mar. 24.—An agreement has been reached between the officers of the International Brick, Tile and Terra Cotta Union of America and representatives of the Claycraft Central Refractories and Impervious Brick Companies on a new wage scale for two years, effective April 1. Plants at New Straitsville, New Lexington and Shawnee, are affected.

TWELVE HURT

CINCINNATI, Mar. 24.—Twelve persons were injured early today when a bus transporting passengers from the downtown section of the Cincinnati Dayton Interurban Terminal crashed into a telephone pole. Six of the injured were taken to hospitals although none was believed seriously hurt.

HEART OF MABEL NORMAND IS BROKEN BY MURDER PUBLICITY

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 24.—The heart of Mabel Normand, screen comedienne, is being broken by the publicity she is getting in connection with the William Desmond Taylor murder mystery, she told the United Press in an interview today.

"It breaks my heart to have this thing come up just as I am getting a fresh start in the pictures, Mabel said, her forehead wrinkling in a frown which is not common to the "smiling star" of the films. "I thought the case had been dropped and forgotten."

"Oh, if they could only solve the murder—if they only could. Then I'd be the happiest girl in the world."

But Mabel's frown turned to a look of serious determination when she was told that Asa Keyes, district attorney of Los Angeles had said in the east that he wanted to question her—that she had "slipped away" from him when he was in New York. She said Keyes did not have to look her up—that she would be waiting for him when he returned to the coast and would tell him all she knew.

"If Mr. Keyes is really sincere in his desire to solve the Taylor case he will certainly get my co-operation," said the star.

"I suspect though, he is merely having a good time traveling around the country and sight-seeing as guest of various police officials and state's attorneys."

"I don't like one bit the way he is dragging my name into the big headlines for no reason whatever. He needn't summon me when he returns. I am going right to his office and ask him what it is all about."

"The whole wide world knows my connection with the Taylor case. I knew Mr. Taylor—thought I knew him well, but none of us really did."

"None, for instance, knew he had been married—had a grown up daughter. He was very kind—kind to every one."

"I went to his home to give him a scenario to read, and to borrow a book. I left him and before morning he had been murdered."

FOUR KILLED AT CROSSING

Fifth Believed Dying After Freight Strikes Auto Returning From Funeral at Unguarded Crossing

KENTON, O., March 24.—Four persons were dead today and a fifth was believed dying as the result of a grade-crossing crash here last night.

The dead were: Irwin Sherman, 40, a farmer; Regina Sherman, 13, an adopted daughter; John Sherman, 75, father of Irwin; Mrs. David Temple, 40, mother of six children.

Mrs. Irwin Sherman, 38, was reported near death this morning, with both legs broken. Physicians said she had a chance for recovery.

The automobile party was returning from a funeral when the machine collided with a Big Four freight train. The crossing where the accident occurred is unguarded.

DEMOCRATS WILL CONCENTRATE EFFORTS UPON TWELVE STATES

Ohio Among States To Be Objective of Minority Effort—Candidate To Oppose Willis Is Not Selected

WASHINGTON, Mar. 24.—With opening of the Democratic congressional campaign in Maine today Democratic leaders here made known their strategy of concentrating forces in twelve selected doubtful states, any nine of which would give them control of the next senate.

The states selected are Illinois, Oregon, Missouri, Oklahoma, Kentucky, Ohio, California, Arizona, Massachusetts, Maryland, Colorado and New York.

These states are now represented by Republican senators. The Democrats feel they have the best chance to win in these states.

Of thirty-four senators up for reelection in November, twenty-seven are Republicans and seven Democrats. It is believed at this stage twelve Republicans and seven Democrats are virtually to be returned. This leaves fifteen Republican seats doubtful.

The present line up of the senate shows fifty-six Republicans, thirty-nine Democrats and one Farmer-Labor. If the minority should win all twelve seats the lineup would show Democrats fifty-one, Republicans forty-four, and Farmer-Labor one.

In Ohio the Democrats have been searching for a strong man to oppose Senator Willis, Republican and their hopes rely entirely upon the success of their hunt which has thus far proved fruitless.

LIMA CITY SCHOOLS MAY SUSPEND AGAIN FOR LACK OF FUNDS

By United Press
LIMA, O., March 24.—Confronted by prospects of a depleted operating fund, the Lima city schools may close again on April 1, it was announced today. The board of education has voted to close the schools and it was believed today that voters' petitions authorizing the board to borrow funds was the only recourse.

Relief petitions already have been placed in circulation and are to be submitted to the board tonight. The petitions call upon the voters to approve recommended changes in the city budget.

The schools were closed several months ago when the operating fund became enmeshed in litigation between the county and city.

Subsequently the state legislature convened and enacted a measure designed to relieve conditions.

The petitions in circulation today provide 3.96 mills per dollar of the budget be placed outside the fifteen mill limitation under provisions of the legislature's relief measures.

Provided a sufficient number of petitions sign the schools will be reopened April 12, the board of education announced.

FATE OF MURDERER WILL BE GIVEN JURY

FREMONT, O., Mar. 24.—Barring unforeseen developments, the fate of William Clark, on trial for the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hoffman at their farm home near Helena on February 6, will be placed in the hands of a jury today.

Young Clark, testifying in his own behalf, has admitted he fired a gun in the presence of the Hoffmans who surprised him looting their home but denied he shot directly at them.

FINAL MEMBER OF BANDIT GANG HELD

NEW YORK, March 24.—With the arrest of William J. Unkelbach, Cleveland and Baltimore gunman, police believe they have rounded up all of the most important members of the Richard Reese Whittemore gang.

Unkelbach was captured by detectives in his room after a brief struggle. A revolver hung by the bedside, but he did not have an opportunity to use it.

Alleged confessions of the newest prisoner are said to leave in more of a tangle than ever the problem as to which state will try Whittemore and his companions for the amazing list of crimes laid to them.

TAKEN TO PEN
CLEVELAND, O., Mar. 24.—Albert H. Smith, 24, of Fostoria, was among seven prisoners taken to the Atlanta Federal Penitentiary today, by Sheriff Fred Kohler and deputy United States marshals. Smith must serve a year and a day in the prison.

ASK MODIFICATION OF JACKSONVILLE WAGE AGREEMENT

May Open Mines To Non-Union If Plans Fail

By United Press
COLUMBUS, O., March 24.—Firm in their determination to bring about a re-habilitation of the Ohio coal mining industry, a committee of Southeastern Ohio mine operators called upon John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, in Indianapolis today, to lay before him a proposal for abandonment or modification of the Jacksonville wage agreement.

In short the operators proposed the Jacksonville agreement be modified so that Ohio mines would be re-opened to compete with non-union mines in Kentucky and West Virginia and with discriminatory freight rates in effect in the southern fields.

Lewis was reported to look with disfavor upon the overtures and in a letter to Gov. A. V. Donahy, declared modification of the agreement "would be no panacea for the present day ills."

"Ohio miners cannot permit their living standards to be degraded by conditions prevailing in non-union fields," Lewis wrote, discussing the governor's overtures designed to bring about a complete restoration of the fast diminishing industry.

The miners expressed a willingness to re-open the mines with union miners, but were insistent that the Jacksonville agreement, drafted in 1917 and superseding previous agreements be modified. Operators would be in excess of the present non-union scale in West Virginia and Kentucky but would be a material reduction under the Jacksonville scale.

Should Lewis reject the operators advances and refuse consideration of a compromise agreement, the operators, the United Press was reliably informed, will attempt to take matters into their own hands. Under the procedure, the United Press learned, the operators would.

1.—Reopen the mines with non-union miners, if necessary, courting the general displeasure and antagonism of Lewis and other mine union officials.

2.—Draft wage agreements acceptable to the Union miners, but looked upon with disfavor by Lewis. The agreement would be sent to the miners who would be canvassed as to their attitude. Should the miners look with favor upon the agreements, the operators would propose to negotiate directly with them without consulting mine union officials.

PICTURE OF VICTIM HANGS IN NESBITT'S CELL IN TROY JAIL

Prisoner Declares He Has Told All After Latest Quiz

By United Press
TROY, O., March 24.—On the wall in the cell where Jacob Nesbitt awaits indictment and trial for the murder of his wife, Frances, hangs today a picture of the woman he killed.

Nesbitt brought the picture from his cottage, where he was taken by authorities in an effort to clear up several angles of the young salesman's confession.

Nesbitt was entirely calm. Prosecutor Leonard Harvey said.

He shows reluctance in discussing the killing and apparently is holding back no valuable information. "I have told you all I know," he repeats, "and I will do all I can to help you."

Pictures of the room in the murder cottage in which Mrs. Nesbitt was slain were taken for presentation to the grand jury.

SUIT AGAINST JAZZ KING IS DISMISSED

NEW YORK, Mar. 24.—The sudden penchant of prominent persons for settling their legal difficulties out of court, was exhibited again today when the suit for $10,000 brought by Mrs. Celia for "Jazz King" Paul Whiteman, Slack against Paul Whiteman, after jurors had been impaneled. The amount of the settlement was not revealed.

Mrs. Slack, former mother-in-law of Whiteman, claimed the orchestra leader owed her six months compensation for care and maintenance of the child born to his first wife, Nellie Slack Whiteman, whom he married in Littleton, Colorado, in 1908. The child died in Colorado.

Whiteman and the former Miss Slack were divorced in New Jersey, eleven years ago.

PROPHECIES FAIL
WHEN PRETTY GIRL
TAKEN IN BY SEER

TOKYO, March 24.—Moritaka Kuki, prophet, seer and revelator, established in Tokyo for some years was doing fine, with about a thousand persons drawing comfort from his prophecies and paying well for it. He had his own shrine and an assistant to help draw the veil back from the future. However, a mon-ago he made a bad guess, believing that he could introduce a pretty young girl from Kyoto into his sanctuary and increase his own happiness thereby. What even his prophetic eye could not see was that his assistant might also fall in love with the Kyoto damsel. The eternal triangle played its usual discordant note. The girl went back to Kyoto and the assistant prophet went to the police with a tale of how Kuki duped his followers.

The police have searched the prophet's mansion and put the seer into jail on the strength of what they found. Among his victims, whom he had carefully catalogued, are a number of well known persons, including members of the nobility.

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED
MARY WAITE shares two rooms with CELIA STEWART, and works as a stenographer and general assistant in the office of STANLEY BLAKE. Mary has few friends, but Celia goes out frequently in the evening, though she does not tell with whom. Mary finds that Celia and Stanley see each other frequently, although Stanley is married. Mary goes to supper with PAT HAMILTON, whom she has met before whose attentions she has refused because he is married, and sees Celia and Stanley at another table. Mrs. Blake learns that Stanley is going around with some girl, and thinks it is Mary. She telephones Mary, threatening to make trouble unless Mary leaves town at once. Celia disappears. Mary sees Hamilton again, and he arranges for her to go to New York and work for a friend of his.

Mary goes to work in New York for MR. CRANDALL, a wealthy old man. WILL CRANDALL, who is very nice to her.

TODAY'S INSTALLMENT
XXVIII—A NEW FRIEND
MARY liked Will Crandall. Until that afternoon when he walked home with her she had seen him only once or twice, when he had come into the library to consult with his father about various plans. At such times she had pretended to have business that took her to the bookcases at the far end of the room, so that it would be plain that she did not overhear what they were saying, but as old Mr. Crandall talked very loudly and emphatically, she could not help hearing each bit of his conversation as "You're a fool to do it, and I'll never give my consent."

She saw very little of the Crandall family. Mrs. Crandall, a rather pompous dowager who thought of nothing but her social engagements, had come into the library but once, and then Mary had not been introduced to her. Mary saw her sometimes going through the hall, but she never saw her car, but Mrs. Crandall never seemed to notice that the girl was there.

thought it was way up in the country—most of the city lay south of here then. And now it spreads north for miles!" Mary laughed softly. Somehow everything that he said seemed especially interesting or amusing. She did not see him again until ten days later. It was Saturday, and she had the afternoon off. She was wondering what she could do; it was a beautiful day, and she could not help wishing that she could go somewhere in the country. About two blocks from the Crandall home she met Will, hurrying toward it. He stopped abruptly when he saw her. "Oh, hello! I've been tearing along, hoping that I'd get to the house before you left. It's such a gorgeous day—won't you go for a ride with me?" "I'd love to go!" Mary exclaimed delightedly. "Only—I'll have to go home first and get a warmer coat than this one."

"That's all right; I've got one that you can wear in the car. Do come along right now!" He took her arm and hurried her down a side street to where his car was parked; she was in it and half a mile up Fifth Avenue before she had time to wonder why he hadn't had the car in front of his own home. As if to answer her question he said:

"That was my studio where the car was—at least, my studio's in that building. I wish you'd come over and have tea with me some day; I'd like to show you some of my stuff. If—well, I suppose it would bore you terribly, only—"

"Indeed it wouldn't. I'd like to come!" Mary told him enthusiastically.

They left the city far behind them. "Please do ask me soon," "You don't know what you're letting yourself in for," he told her, smiling down into her eyes. "I never mention my painting at home, because none of my people care about things like that. They think I'm an awful fool for wanting to paint instead of going to work for Dad and making a lot of money. As if there wasn't money enough now! But if you will come—well, you just don't know how much you'll be doing for me!"

He turned away again, and Mary settled back in the seat, smiling happily. She liked Will Crandall better than she'd ever liked anyone else. She could talk with him so easily. She felt as if she had known him for years.

They left the city far behind them, and went scudding along country roads, uneven, narrow roads, off the beaten track. Will's roadster took the bumps and ruts easily. When sunset came they were far up in the hills, with the Hudson gliding along below. There were no houses anywhere to be seen; they might have been alone in the world.

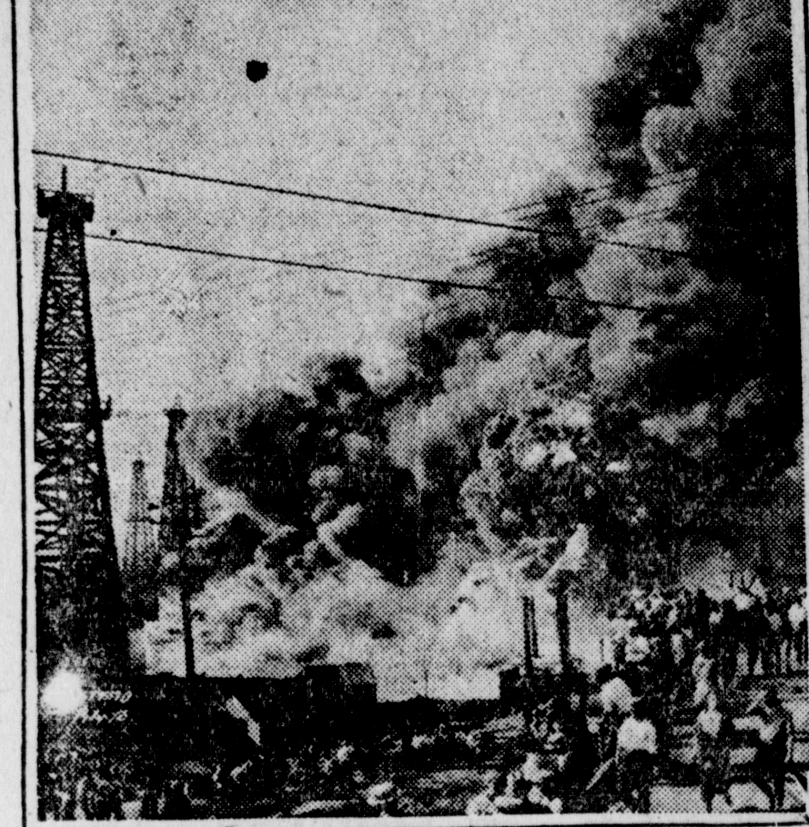

"It's wonderful, isn't it?" Mary asked, looking up as Will stopped the car on a hilltop. He looked down into her eyes so steadily that she flushed.

"It's the most wonderful thing that's ever happened to me," he told her eagerly. Mary glanced away. It was impossible not to know that a great deal lay behind his words; that some day he would tell her the things that he wasn't actually saying in words now.

A big, glowing happiness surged up in Mary's heart. She realized that, no matter what might happen to her at any time in the future, nothing could ever make her forget the way she felt at that moment.

RHEUMATISM

IT'S GONE! That awful agony! Rheumatism can't stand the rich, red blood that S. S. S. helps Nature build. But rheumatism will bring pain and misery to your joints and muscles just as long as you are without plenty of rich, red blood in your system.

It's the red-blood-cells that S. S. S. helps Nature build that drive out of your system the impurities that cause rheumatism. And until you do build up your blood to where it is pure and rich and red, you simply can't get rid of rheumatism.

And S. S. S. is the thing. Red blood conquers rheumatism. Everybody knows that. S. S. S. means millions of red-blood-cells—means health all over. No more rheumatism. Nights of rest—days of joy, filled with the happiness of accomplishment—made possible by a body brimful of red blooded life, energy and vitality.

That's what the end of rheumatism means—that's what S. S. S. brings to you. Get S. S. S. from your druggist. The larger bottle is more economical.

WITH her children grown up, the middle-aged woman finds time to do the things she never had time to do before—read the new books, see the new plays, enjoy her grandchildren, take an active part in church and civic affairs. Far from being pushed aside by the younger set, she finds a full, rich life of her own. That is, if her health is good.

Thousands of women of middle age say they owe their vigor and health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Those who have learned through their own experience the merit of this dependable medicine are enthusiastic in recommending it to their friends and neighbors.

A woman in Nebraska was troubled with headaches for fifteen years. She writes, "I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have felt my health steadily improving. Today, after taking your medicine for almost a year and a half, I believe I can say the headaches have left me for it is seven months since I had the last one. I am continuing the Vegetable Compound. Kokomo galvanizing is more than a mere coating. It actually becomes a part of the wire itself. That accounts for the long life advantages of Kokomo Pioneer Fence. It is as nearly rust-proof as it can possibly be made.

DETECTIVES PROBING FRANKLIN MURDER MAY VISIT THIS CITY

Reports that investigators were to come to Xenia Tuesday or Wednesday in an effort to establish identity of bandits who killed J. A. Benze, Franklin, night policeman, Sunday morning, were found to be without foundation with failure of officials to appear on either day. It is said officials believe it possible Benze's slayers may be the yeggs who robbed two Xenia department stores of cash and merchandise valued at $1,000 March 13.

Failure of the investigators to appear in Xenia Wednesday is taken to mean the trip may have been delayed until Thursday. Xenia police are without information.

It is said the robbery of the Thriftfield store in Franklin resembles in some ways the robbery of the Xenia stores. This is to be one of the angles investigated. Action of strangers seen to enter both the Franklin and Xenia stores prior to the robberies was such as to arouse suspicion of clerks. In each case the strangers strolled about the stores and departed without making any purchases.

Man Arrested for Champaign County

Theodore Frazee, 35, alias Fred Wilson, was turned over to Champaign County authorities following his arrest in Cedarville Tuesday by Deputy Sheriff John Baughn assisted by Patrolman Charles Thompson.

He was returned to that county where he is wanted for violation of a parole on a liquor violation conviction, by Deputy Sheriff Emory Smith and Constable W. M. Bradley, Champaign County.

Frazee had been making his home with his family on the farm of Jack Puray, west of Cedarville, under the name of Fred Wilson. He was employed in the stone quarries near Cedarville.

City Solicitor J. A. Finney has been informed the proposed phone rate increase in Xenia announced by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. will not be given a hearing before the state utilities commission in Columbus March 30 as was first believed, according to City Manager S. O. Hale.

Contemplated rate boosts affecting Xenia have not actually been filed with the commission but are pending, it is said. Hearing before the commission next Tuesday is restricted to those rates have already been filed. It cities in the state for which new is learned.

Xenia's new rates are expected to be filed when the company makes its proposed readjustment which will affect virtually every exchange in the state, it is said. A blanket hearing may be given by the commission at that time.

No action is expected to be taken by City Commission until official notification of the Xenia rate boost has been received.

City officials say an attempt will undoubtedly be made to resist the increase Xenia will probably join in with other cities similarly affected in protesting the company's action.

Situation will probably be discussed informally by commissioners at their regular meeting Thursday night at City Hall.

SENTENCE OF KIRBY WILL END PROBE

CLEVELAND, O., Mar. 24.—The federal jury fixing investigation may be discontinued by the government today when Josiah Kirby, at whose trial jury tampering revelations were made, appears before Federal Judge John M. Killits, for sentence.

"I am very well satisfied with the progress made," said Judge Killits who ordered the jury fixing probe. He declared the government was "undecided" whether the investigation would be pushed after Kirby's sentence.

For the past two days, Luther Day, Kirby's counsel, and government attorneys and Judge Killits have been holding conferences in deciding on Kirby's sentence. It was reported advances were made, as to how much mitigation Kirby would receive by giving up his fight against conviction on fourteen counts charging use of the mails to defraud.

Judge Killits announced he would overrule Kirby's motions for a new trial, when Kirby appears today.

Hair Dry, Brittle from Constant Waving, Curling

The constant curling and waving demanded by present styles in bobbed hair slowly but surely ruins the hair, leaving it dry, faded, brittle and full of dandruff; then the hair roots shrink and the hair falls out fast.

Since girls just must curl and wave the hair to appear their prettiest, try "Danderine" to offset any bad effects. After the first application your hair will take on new life and that healthy, youthful luster, become incomparably soft, wavy and appears twice as thick and abundant. Falling hair stops and dandruff disappears.

A 35-cent bottle of refreshing "Danderine" from any drug store or toilet counter will do wonders for any girl's hair. It goes right to the roots, invigorates, nourishes and strengthens them, helping the hair to grow thick, healthy and luxuriant. adv

SAVING $6,150,000 A YEAR

ONE ITEM of public debt of the United States is $615,000,000 in short-term notes bearing interest at 4-3-4 per cent. The annual interest charge which must be met by the government--and ultimately by the taxpayers--is $29,212,500, notes the Philadelphia Public Ledger, which continues:

If the treasury could borrow money at 3-3-4 per cent to retire these notes, the annual interest charge would be $23,062,500, a saving--ultimately to the taxpayers--of $6,150,000.

This is simple arithmetic. It does not mean anything on paper. It does mean something if put into effect through an actual transaction. It means an annual saving to American taxpayers greater, for instance, than that effected by the Italian debt settlement during the first years of its operation.

Secretary Mellon intends to put through this transaction. One step in it is the flotation on the money market of $500,000,000 in thirty-year bonds bearing interest at 3-3-4 per cent. His knowledge of conditions in the money market gives him assurance that the issue will be subscribed; not only that, but that $100.50 will be paid for each $100 bond, giving the treasury a premium of $2,500,000.

Operations such as this are equivalent to tax reductions. In the aggregate they are of tremendous importance in the national economy. It is as necessary to have at the treasury men of the ability to engineer such operations as it is to have men who can find other ways to reduce taxes.

FULL USE OF FACULTIES

A TEXAS minister found his eyesight failing. Because he was threatened with blindness he started to read with an attention vastly more intense than theretofore because what he read he might soon be unable to read again. He committed to memory the entire New Testament and parts of the Old Testament. He found the feat far less difficult than might be imagined because he made full use of his faculties. Through his misfortune he found the spur to development of his memory to a far greater capacity than he had imagined possible, probably.

It is said that Macaulay could not forget anything. Anything once in his possession remained his. It is no trouble to remember those things which one really wants to remember, but most persons absorb so much with a half-interest that it does not impress itself firmly. It is claimed that one does not actually forget, that one buries the information so deeply, perhaps, that it cannot be easily dug out but it remains lodged in the mind though it may be tucked in an obscure corner and appear inaccessible.

Genius consists not so much in superior powers as in using ordinary ones to full capacity. A noted minister in a western city has the reputation of being able to grasp the essentials of a book in a few minutes. He has had handed to him a book he has never before seen, then after he had only glanced through it apparently, has stood an examination on the argument adduced, proving that he has grasped the whole while the ordinary person would have been poring over a page or two. Doubtless he does not read every word. He is able to jump from the chaff to the wheat, to separate the decoration from the substance because he uses his faculties.

The difference between the pupil's reading of his lesson and the story of a ball game in which he took part is the difference between doing a thing mechanically as a task and doing something in which one is intensely interested.

THE GOOD GREEN COUNTRY

VACATION JOYS, like most others, are sweetest when simplest.

Many people are planning elaborate vacation trips at expense they cannot well afford, will put up with high priced inconveniences they would not tolerate at home, and will come back more tired than when they went away.

But out of the dirt and rattle and confusion of the town there is easy escape in the shady, silent woods that are cool, clean, sweet, odorous, musical, in the smiling fields, the laughing brooks and the placid lakes, not far from home.

Here is real rest for worn nerves and true quickening of the flagging spirit.

What a noble gift to mankind are the trees! How pleasantly their shadows fall upon us when we turn to them from the glitter and turmoil of the hot town! The breath of heaven seems to linger in the whispering branches, and the sunshine sifts through the swaying leaves like a benediction purified.

In the close application to the detail of our daily work we are apt to distort the perspective of our purposes. We are apt to plod on through habit and forget our higher aims. Maybe some of us never have any. Then all the more do we need a time of solitude and dream. Men without definite aims and purposes beyond mere means of comfortable existence are animals on two legs with nothing to recompense the loss of the monkey tail.

It is good once in a while to get away from the hurly-burly and take a little while to dream, to form ideas, to shape and direct purposes, to realize what the noisy striving is all for.

TOLEDO, O., March 23.—(United Press).—"Love desperately, don't 'pet' promiscuously, and marry young" is the advice of the Rev. Stephen K. Mahon of the Epworth

Methodist Church here gives to the youth.

"Petting parties are dangerous because they are bad morally, physically and spiritually," Rev. Mahon advises. "Sometimes husbands and wives think they don't love one another any more and should separate. They are just 'fed up' on each other."

"What they need is not divorce," he cautions, "but separate vacations. They should get away from each other for a while."

Messrs. Tom Wooley and Ben Piers, Xenia's two clever acrobats and bar performers, who have been practicing regularly for several months in their private gymnasium on Green St., will have to abandon this for some time, until Mr. Piers recovers from a badly sprained ankle.

One of the most interesting events of the kind that has ever occurred in Xenia was the local oratorical contest at the McKinley auditorium.

GOOD COCOANUT COOKIES

The housekeeper who can make delicious coconut cookies, is in a position to serve afternoon tea and "little cakes" at any time. For these cookies will keep tender for days and days, and are especially good with a cup of tea. The following recipe is one I use constantly in my own home. It makes four dozen and six or eight additional cookies, even when the uncooked discs of dough measure one-third inch in height. My cutter measures not quite two and one-half inches in diameter (of course it has no hole, like a doughnut cutter). When baked, the cookies are about one-half inch high in the middle, tapering off at the edges. They are a delicate brown in color and have soft interiors although firm exteriors.

Cocoa Nut Cookies: Begin by putting one-fourth cup of leaf lard into a mixing bowl. Cream this, then add one heaping tablespoon of butter. When the two lip and stop. Study and practice, struggle as you may To every golfer comes his dreary day.

This thing called skill is subtle at the best. If every golfer honestly confessed He'd tell you that he'd never understood. Just why the other day he was so good; There's much about the game he can't explain, Luck is the father of both joy and pain. We smile today to see our putts go down, They rim the cup tomorrow and we frown.

Yet golf is rich in this--that all who play Can find some joy to light the dreary day. No game is quite so bad, but what it gives One happy shot, which long remembered, lives; And he who loses can look back and see One sunny place where it was good to be. For life goes forward very much the same, Whether a man be on or off his game.

Look to the golfer, when his luck is bad Does he recall the fortune he has had? Is he still grateful for his sunny days Or does he mar your pleasure when he plays? Is victory so important that he sees Nothing to life or golf, but victories? Bad golf or good! what matters, if it ends In the brave fellowship of honest friends?

SIDELIGHTS
ON
Greene County History

FIRST SETTLERS

First settlers of Greene County were from Kentucky, Scotchmen of old Seceder stock, but most of the people who settled in Greene County originally came from Virginia. There was, however, a sprinkling of Pennsylvanians and Carolinians.

As a rule they were the merchant, the farmer, the mechanic, the soldier, and the politician, ready to enforce and make the law, to build the mill, to protect the country in time of war and put their hands to the plow or anything as the time might require.

The old blockhouse near the home of Peter Borders, the house in which the county's first court was held, later became the improvised jail for the community. There was an early need for such a place to lodge law violators.

Streams of pioneers gradually became greater and thousands loaded themselves and necessities into primitive arks or flatboats and floated down the Ohio River to find new homes.

Many of these settlers, natives of Pennsylvania and Virginia, became newcomers in Greene County. Their outfit consisted of the smallest amount of bed clothing, a few iron and pewter utensils, an ax, an auger, a flintlock rifle, a knife and a plow.

After the emigrant reached his destination, his rude bark was dismantled and the lumber sold or used in erection of the cabin or barn. On arriving at Cincinnati, the new settler of Greene County would load his family and few belongings into an ox-drawn wagon and strike out northward through the Miami country to this section.

When the pioneer reached this county, he found the older settler ready to lend a helping hand and share his cabin with the new family temporarily. As soon as possible after the emigrant located, his neighbors appointed a day for the house raising and he was firmly established in the community.

MODISH MITZI-It's Shame the Way the Goofer Wastes Time By JAY V. JAY

"It's not that I don't like you a lot," Mitzi is explaining to the Goofer. "It's just that I adore men who do things, and you waste your time on trifles. You should find something serious and important to do. What do you think of this hat?"

"You see, it's one of those new hats--soft felt and just made by the way the creases are put in. The thing to do is to have the hat fitted on your head with the sort of creases that are right for you. Do you like it better this way or the first way?"

"Oh, do be a darling, won't you? Aunt Sophia told me to go to the caterer's about her dinner next Monday. Will you see him for me? And get my watch at the jeweler's as you go by? I think this way this hat looks even better. It gives a beret effect."

"Don't forget to do those errands for me, with me I meant to do them myself, but if a hat like this is just right, it's absolutely wrong! And don't forget always count!" And the Goofer keeps on saying what I said--it's the men who do big things that nothing.

ADVICE

The cheapest commodity in this world is advice. That's why so many people give it away. Advice should be something to keep until asked for. We all need suggestions to guide us along the way. But advice should be sought or else its power for helpfulness becomes doubtful.

You see, advice that you give to someone else may have been thought out as good advice for yourself but turn out to be the worst possible for another. Circumstances often wither the best of advice so that it is in the way.

To keep one's mouth shut is an accomplishment both rare and refreshing. The lawyer sells his advice. And the client gladly pays a great sum to his lawyer because he has faith in his advice. There are so many things that we could give away and which make other people very happy, so that advice really takes a back seat and is of little importance excepting when highly cultivated through experience or special study and research.

How many times we have given an advice only to see it come back to us in a very unhappy state of mind and full of blame. But kindness, generous impulses that have been put to action, sincere love, encouragement, inspiring words, never come back except when they return with interest compounded again and again.

Seek advice, but do not give it.

Pupils Defeat Teachers On Basketball Court

STUDENTS MASTERS OF FACULTY IN TILT TO FINANCE DINNER

First String Five Shows Up Coach's Team 29-19

That students at Central School are at least the masters of their teachers in athletics was demonstrated Tuesday afternoon when Central's star first team administered a neat 29 to 19 trouncing to the faculty of the school in a special benefit game.

Proceeds of the contest, amounting to more than $20 will be used to help finance a proposed banquet for members of the court squad soon. Letters will probably be awarded at the banquet.

Central's regulars started off in whirlwind fashion with the evident intention of "rubbing it in" on the faculty opponents and succeeded in running up an 18 to 6 advantage at the half.

The faculty hit its stride in the second half and although "showing up" its younger and more experienced opponents in point of scoring, failed to reduce the large margin gained earlier in the game.

Coach Victor Kolb, former all-Ohio star at Ohio Wesleyan University, was held in check by the first stringers during the first part of the game, but evaded guards long enough to pile up ten points as the game progressed to lead both teams in scoring.

Bob Finlay, Central's forward sensation, did the bulk of the scoring for his team with nine counters followed by Scurry with seven and Stearns with six. Captain Huston was held to one point, a foul.

Lineup and summary:
Central (29) Faculty (19)
Finlay.....RF.....Felger
Huston (c).....LF.....Whitworth
Scurry.....C.....Ballantyne
Parrett.....RG.....Kolb
Stearns.....LG.....Weaver
Substitutions: Central—Smith for Stearns; Stearns for Smith; Faculty—Wipert for Weaver; Weaver for Wipert. Field goals—Finlay 4, Scurry 3, Stearns 2, Parrett 1, Smith 1, Kolb 5, Felger 1, Whitworth 1, Ballantyne 1. Foul goals—Stearns 2, Parrett 2, Scurry 1, Huston 1, Finlay 1, Felger 3. Referee—Nash.

VISITORS DEFEAT COLORED ALL STARS ON CENTRAL COURT

Although apparently playing below form, the Chicago "50" club, basketball champions of Chicago in 1925, proved superior to the Xenia Colored All-Stars, defeating the local quintet 25 to 19 at Central High School gym, Tuesday night.

Locals were weakened by the absence from the lineup of DeHart Hubbard, famous Cincinnati negro athlete, but made an excellent showing against the invaders.

The visiting champions encountered difficulty in locating the net and wasted many shots, but overcame this handicap by brilliant passwork to retain possession of the ball most of the game.

Game was one of the fastest and cleanest of the season.

East High School Alumni defeated the Xenia Celtics by a score of 41 to 40 in the preliminary in a contest which rivaled the main game in interest.

GLASS JOINS TEAM IN VIRGINIA LOOP

Lauris Glass, Alpha, who signed up to pitch with the Wilson Athletic Club, Wilson, N. C., in the Virginia State League during the coming season, departed to join his team Monday night.

Local baseball enthusiasts expect much from the Alpha lad, who was formerly star member of the hurling staff of the Bowersville Bayliffs last season.

Glass is a tall right-hander weighing 186 pounds, and under instruction, is expected to develop into a fine twirler. The Wilson A. C. nine is one of the strongest teams in the state league, playing Class B baseball.

After a campaign extending over several years, the government tax on sporting goods is being slowly removed along with important personal taxes.

The new revenue bill, passed a few weeks ago, was kind to golf players and trap and rifle marksmen.

Notice was sent out by counsel for the United States Golf Association a few days ago that all clubs throughout the country need not include in their 1925 tax returns the amounts collected as green fees by individuals for the privilege of playing on courses of which they were not members.

The announcement was made as a result of a discovery that hundreds of thousands of dollars have been improperly and unnecessarily paid by golf clubs on the assumption that green fees were in the same class as dues and admission fees to places of amusement. These taxes, in spite of a campaign to have them exempted, still have to be included in the returns, however.

EXAMINATIONS FOR SENIORS REPLACED BY STANDARD TESTS

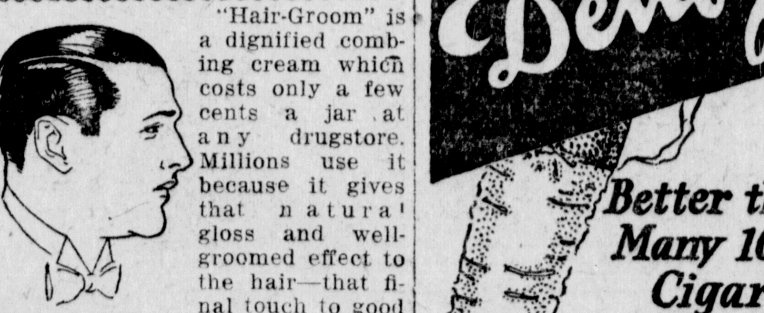

Plan followed by the State Department of Education during the past two or three years of holding examinations for any seniors of the county for college or normal school entrance, has been discontinued and a county-wide standard test for all seniors has been arranged in its stead, according to H. C. Aultman, county superintendent.

With the help of the Assistant State Superintendent of Education W. W. Bliss, superintendents of the county will supervise the tests. School needs have been assigned to various schools in the county for the tests, as follows:

C. E. Oxley, Cedarville to Ross; H. C. Aultman to Yellow Springs; A. D. Drewes, of Spring Valley to Bellbrook; H. L. Sams of Caesar Creek to O. S. and S. O. Home; D. H. Barnes, Xenia to Spring Valley; H. E. Zuber of Osborn to Beaver Creek; O. E. Barr, of Yellow Springs to Bath; P. C. Milner, of Bowersville to Caesar Creek; A. F. Roush of Ross to Bowersville; Miss Susanne Koehler of the Greene Co. Normal to Jamestown; W. B. Bliss, assistant state superintendent to Cedarville.

BEAVER HIGH BASKET BALL TEAMS HONORED AT BANQUET TUESDAY

Members of Beaver Creek High School boys' and girls' basketball teams were tendered a banquet at the Knights of Pythias Hall in Beaver Tuesday night, sponsored by parents of the players in recognition of one of the most successful seasons in years.

Between 125 and 150 supporters of the teams attended the banquet. W. W. White, coach of both teams presided as toastmaster. Toast to the captains was delivered by W. R. Sayrs, musical instructor and the response was made by Miss Mary Coy. Among the short talks on the speaking program were toasts to the "crew" by A. A. Neff, member of the school faculty; to the "stokers" by Miss Lucille Tanner, student; to the "steam" by Robert Thompson, student; to the "wireless room" by Stephen Stedman, an alumnus, and to the "harbor" by Kenneth Hawker.

Refreshments were served and ice cream and decorations were carried out in colors of orange and black.

CHRIST POINTS OUT ROUTE TO ETERNAL PRIZE SAYS PASTOR

Evangelist H. Elmer Pemberton, speaking Tuesday night at the Friends Church, took his text from the Gospel of St. Luke, where Jesus told the Pharisees that He came to "seek and save the lost." "Jesus is the great Pathfinder," he declared and compared Him to Fremont, who blazed the trail to the western gold fields. "Many there failed to find gold," the speaker said, "but there is a sure prize at the end of life's race for those who are willing to make the sacrifice."

The evangelist stated that when the proud and haughty Pharisee complained that Jesus had gone to eat with sinners, Jesus informed them that that was His only purpose in coming to this earth was to "seek and save the lost," and that he had dedicated His life to this purpose. The speaker emphatically declared that dedication of life to service would carry any person through and this, he said, is what the gospel is calculated to help one do.

"Service is what made Lincoln great and Lincoln's work for humanity is only a small picture of the great work of Jesus for man. Sin is the great slaveholder of the world, it binds the strongest and deludes the most intelligent but Christ is the great Emancipator who sets us free."

The evangelist made the following "Pembertonians" in the course of his lecture: "America has been spared to save the world. The public school is unique in solving our social problems. Denominations are doors opening into the kingdom of God. You seldom find a gossip in the front seat at prayer meeting. We are all our Father's children, but He has a lot of bad children. Lord make us big enough to see our smallness. Religion cannot be made vital through creed, but through life."

CHILD DIES AFTER TWO WEEKS' ILLNESS

Betty Jean Fisher, aged 5 years, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Fisher, 316 E. Second St., died Tuesday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock.

She had been frail since birth, and had been ill two weeks of whooping cough. She attended the Reformed Church Sunday School.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock with interment in Woodland Cemetery.

RAILROAD REFORM
IS WORKED IN ITALY
UNDER MUSSOLINI

ROME, March 24.—A deficit of sixty million dollars on the operation of the Italian State railroads has been turned into a profit of ten millions under the Mussolini regime.

Nine railroad employees per mile was the rule in 1922; now it is six. The amount of freight handled was 39 million tons in 1922. This increased to 63 million tons in 1925.

These are some of the figures which show the revolution worked in railroad methods under the present government.

Before the Fascist cause triumphed the railroad system of Italy boasted the major "red" union of the country. Though there was a nominal eight hour day, the railroad employees union by counting the time the men spent in coming and going from their work, succeeded in reducing the effective working hours to about six and some times even less.

The Theatre

In fifty-six pictures Cecil De Mille has produced, fifty-four have been financial successes. He says frankly that he considers the two failures the most artistic.

DeMille is a consummate actor—so finished and so modest on the surface that one might forget the actor before the subtleties of his humans. "The strong bird of many colors among the sparrows of Hollywood," Jim Tully calls this wizard of the motion picture world, in Vanity Fair. DeMille's mother was an English Jewess. His father was of French descent—a professor at Columbia University and later a collaborator with David Belasco. The film producer was born in 1881.

He was educated at the Pennsylvania Military Academy and studied later at a school of dramatic art where his father was instructor. He went to Hollywood in the spring of 1913 after lunching with Jesse Lasky in New York. Lasky was a vaudeville producer at the time. At this lunch the two young men decided upon an innovation in pictures. Instead of two reels they would make five reel pictures from well known story and stage successes. Needing money, they tried to induce many stage friends to invest five thousand dollars for a fourth interest in the new enterprise. They refused. Better a meal once in a while on Broadway than a dream of a banquet in Hollywood.

A five thousand dollar investment at that time would be worth fifteen million dollars now. DeMille rented an old barn up on reaching Hollywood. Where this barn was first rented the immense Famous Players-Lasky studios now cover two city blocks.

PROPHECIES FAIL
WHEN PRETTY GIRL
TAKEN IN BY SEER

TOKYO, March 24.—Morioka Kuki, prophet, seer and revelator, established in Tokyo for some years was doing fine, with about a thousand persons drawing comfort from his prophecies and paying well for it. He had his own shrine and an assistant to help draw the veil back from the future. However, a month ago he made a bad guess, believing that he could introduce a pretty young girl from Kyoto into his sanctuary and increase his own happiness thereby.

What even his prophetic eye could not see was that his assistant might also fall in love with the Kyoto damsel. The eternal triangle played its usual discordant note. The girl went back to Kyoto and the assistant prophet went to the police with a tale of how Kuki duped his followers.

The police have searched the prophet's mansion and put the seer into jail on the strength of what they found. Among his victims, whom he had carefully card catalogued, are a number of well known persons, including members of the nobility.

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

MARY WHITE shares two rooms with CELIA STEWART, and works as a stenographer and general assistant in the office of

STANLEY BLAKE. Mary has few friends, but Celia goes out frequently in the evening, though she does not tell with whom. Mary finds that Celia and Stanley see each other frequently, although Stanley is married. Mary goes to supper with PAT HAMILTON, whom she has met before but whose attention she has refused because he is married, and sees Celia and Stanley at another table. Mrs. Blake learns that Stanley is going around with some girl, and thinks it is Mary. She telephones Mary, threatening to make trouble unless Mary leaves town at once. Celia disappears. Mary sees Hamilton again, and he arranges for her to go to New York and work for a friend of his.

Mary goes to work in New York for MR. CRANDALL, a wealthy old man, and meets his son WILL CRANDALL, who is very nice to her.

TODAY'S INSTALLMENT

XXVIII—A NEW FRIEND

MARY liked Will Crandall. Until that afternoon when he walked home with her she had seen him only once or twice, when he had come into the library to consult with his father about various plans. At such times she had pretended to have a business that took her to the bookcases at the far end of the room, so that it would be plain to her father that she was not overheard what they were saying, but as old Mr. Crandall talked very loudly and emphatically, she could not help hearing such bits of his conversation as "You're a fool to do it, and I'll never give my consent."

She saw very little of the Crandall family. Mrs. Crandall, a rather pompous dowager who thought of nothing but her social engagements, had come into the library but once, and then Mary had not been introduced to her. Mary saw her sometimes going through the hall, or getting into her car, but Mrs. Crandall never seemed to notice that the girl was there.

Mr. Crandall's two older sons were married, and came to the house rarely. They, like Will, had been introduced to Mary, however, and she realized that they were looking at her keenly, studying her. It made her uncomfortable and she was glad when they left the house.

But Will was far pleasanter. He was much younger than his brothers, much better looking and far more charming of manner. Mary had liked him from the first. He had come in to see his father one day when old Mr. Crandall was at luncheon. Mary was eating her lunch from a tray placed on the end of her desk, and young Crandall, glancing at it, flushed uncomfortably. Later Mary heard him talking to the butler in the hall when the door was open.

"See that she gets something better than that—it's outrageous," she heard him say, and always after that her luncheon was much more elaborate and appetizing. Indeed, she had so much to eat at noon that she wanted only a light meal at night, and as her finances were in none too good a state she was grateful for that.

She was living as cheaply as possible, saving every cent that she could so that she would be able to repay the loan which Pat Hamilton had made her. But she was so thrilled over being in New York that she did not mind economizing. Merely to walk through the streets was interesting. The city never seemed unfriendly to Mary, because she loved it so when she had been there only a short time.

Walking through it with Will Crandall was different, though. The familiar corners which she passed every day were changed. He liked the old section of it where she lived, and told her to whom some of the houses had belonged.

"John Quincy Adams built a house up here for his daughter when she was married," he told her. "Everyone died at her home, 18 W. Third St. Tuesday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock. Her health had been failing for several weeks.

Mrs. Williams was the daughter of David and Elizabeth Kemmer Sentman and was born near Carlisle, Cumberland County, Pa., August 3, 1839. Her husband, with whom she enjoyed more than sixty five years of companionship, preceded her in death three years.

Of their eight children, six survive. They are: Stephen J., and Miss Anna Williams, Dayton; Mrs. Wylie Haddock, Stockton, Calif.; J. McWilliams, Springfield; Mrs. Charles E. Haeseler, Asheville, N. C., and Miss Cora Williams, who lived with her mother.

Funeral services will be held at the First M. E. Church, of which she was an active member for thirty-five years, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in charge of the Rev. F. W. Stanton, pastor. Burial will be made in Woodland Cemetery.

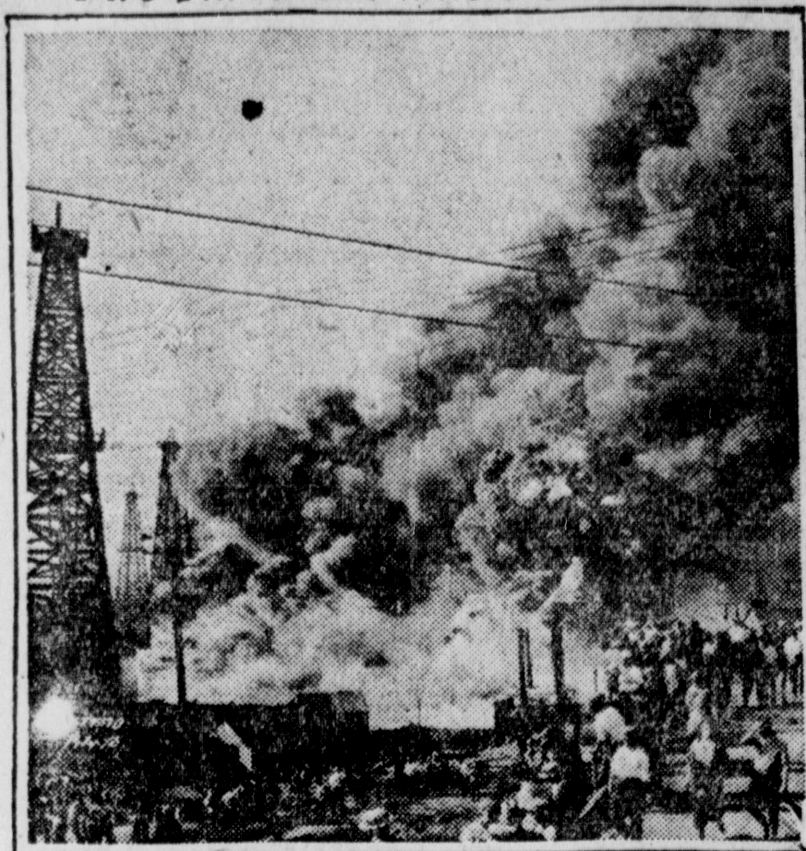

MRS. DAVID REEDER
DIES ON WEDNESDAY

Mrs. Jennie Reeder, 73, wife of David Reeder, died at her home in Spring Valley at 12:30 o'clock Wednesday morning. She had been ill three weeks, suffering from diabetic gangrene.

Mrs. Reeder was before marriage Miss Jennie Moss and was born in Mt. Holly August 11, 1852. Most of her life was spent in Spring Valley. She was married December 28, 1872 to David Reeder who survives her with two brothers, Lewis Moss, Xenia and Harrison Moss, Springfield.

She was a member of the Spring Valley Friends Church. Funeral services will be held at that church Friday morning at 10 o'clock with burial in Spring Valley Cemetery.

RHEUMATISM

IT'S GONE! That awful agony! Rheumatism can't stand the rich, red blood that S. S. S. helps Nature build.

But rheumatism will bring pain and misery to your joints and muscles just as long as you are without plenty of rich, red blood in your system.

It's the red-blood-cells that S. S. S. helps Nature build that drive out of your system the impurities that cause rheumatism. And until you do build up your blood to where it is pure and rich and red, you simply can't get rid of rheumatism.

And S. S. S. is the thing. Red blood conquers rheumatism. Everybody knows that.

S. S. S. means millions of red-blood-cells—means health all over. No more rheumatism. Nights of rest—days of joy, filled with the happiness of accomplishment—made possible by a body brimful of red blooded life, energy and vitality.

That's what the end of rheumatism means—that's what S. S. S. brings to you. Get S. S. S. from your druggist. The larger bottle is more economical.

DETECTIVES PROBING FRANKLIN MURDER MAY VISIT THIS CITY

Reports that investigators were to come to Xenia Tuesday or Wednesday in an effort to establish identity of bandits who killed J. A. Benze, Franklin, night policeman, Sunday morning, were found to be without foundation with failure of officials to appear on either day.

It is said officials believe it possible Benze's slayers may be the yeggs who robbed two Xenia department stores of cash and merchandise valued at $1,000 March 13.

Failure of the investigators to appear in Xenia Wednesday is taken to mean the trip may have been delayed until Thursday. Xenia police are without information.

It is said the robbery of the Thriftfield store in Franklin resembles in some ways the robbery of the Xenia stores. This is to be one of the angles investigated. Action of strangers seen to enter both the Franklin and Xenia stores prior to the robberies was such as to arouse suspicion of clerks. In each case the strangers strolled about the stores and departed without making any purchases.

Hair Dry, Brittle from Constant Waving, Curling

The constant curling and waving demanded by present styles in bobbed hair slowly burns the color, lustre and very life from the hair, leaving it dry, faded, brittle and full of dandruff; then the hair roots shrink and the hair falls out fast.

Since girls just must curl and wave the hair to appear their prettiest, try "Danderine" to offset any bad effects. After the first application your hair will take on new life and that healthy, youthful lustre, become incomparably soft, wavy and appears twice as thick and abundant. Falling hair stops and dandruff disappears.

A 35-cent bottle of refreshing "Danderine" from any drug store or toilet counter will do wonders for any girl's hair. It goes right to the roots, invigorates, nourishes and strengthens them, helping the hair to grow thick, healthy and luxuriant.

EGG LAYING BOOMS WASHINGTON SAYS

WASHINGTON, March 24—Hens worked overtime for farmers last year and produced 15,500,000 cases of eggs, an increase of 1 percent over the number laid in 1924, the official records of the Agriculture Department show.

The total value of chickens hatched on farms last year was about 12 percent greater than in 1924 and the average chick produced was worth 7 percent more in price.

ENTERTAINMENT FOR THEATER OWNERS

LOS ANGELES, March 24—A "million-dollar blow" in the form of pretentious and diversified programs of entertainment has been devised for the 2,000 visitors expected here for the national convention of the Motion Picture Theater Owners of America, June 1-5.

The film plants, including the stars and executive heads, are co-operating to show guests and delegates of the convention a memorable time at the cinema capital.

Bathing parties, dances, private studio banquets, and many sea and inland sightseeing excursions are part of the colorful program arranged for the visitors.

Mr. Ogan until recently managed a motion picture and vaudeville house in Greenville, O. He recently sold that theater.

SAVING $6,150,000 A YEAR

ONE ITEM of public debt of the United States is $615,000,000 in short-term notes bearing interest at 4 3/4 per cent. The annual interest charge which must be met by the government—and ultimately by the taxpayers—is $29,212,500, notes the Philadelphia Public Ledger, which continues:

If the treasury could borrow money at 3 3/4 per cent to retire these notes, the annual interest charge would be $23,062,500, a saving—ultimately to the taxpayers—of $6,150,000.

This is simple arithmetic. It does not mean anything on paper. It does mean something if put into effect through an actual transaction. It means an annual saving to American taxpayers greater, for instance, than that effected by the Italian debt settlement during the first years of its operation.

Secretary Mellon intends to put through this transaction. One step in it is the flotation on the money market of $500,000,000 in thirty-year bonds bearing interest at 3 3/4 per cent. His knowledge of conditions in the money market gives him assurance that the issue will be subscribed; not only that, but that $100.50 will be paid for each $100 bond, giving the treasury a premium of $2,500,000.

Operations such as this are equivalent to tax reductions. In the aggregate they are of tremendous importance in the national economy. It is as necessary to have at the treasury men of the ability to engineer such operations as it is to have men who can find other ways to reduce taxes.

FULL USE OF FACULTIES

A TEXAS minister found his eyesight failing. Because he was threatened with blindness he started to read with an attention vastly more intense than theretofore because what he read he might soon be unable to read again. He committed to memory the entire New Testament and parts of the Old Testament. He found the feat far less difficult than might be imagined because he made full use of his faculties. Through his misfortune he found the spur to development of his memory to a far greater capacity than he had imagined possible, probably.

It is said that Macaulay could not forget anything. Anything once in his possession remained his. It is no trouble to remember those things which one really wants to remember, but most persons absorb so much with a half-interest that it does not impress itself firmly. It is claimed that one does not actually forget, that one buries the information so deeply, perhaps, that it cannot be easily dug out but it remains lodged in the mind though it may be tucked in an obscure corner and appear inaccessible.

Genius consists not so much in superior powers as in using ordinary ones to full capacity. A noted minister in a western city has the reputation of being able to grasp the essentials of a book in a few minutes. He has had handed to him a book he has never before seen, then after he had only glanced through it apparently, has stood an examination on the argument adduced, proving that he has grasped the whole while the ordinary person would have been poring over a page or two. Doubtless he does not read every word. He is able to jump from the chaff to the wheat, to separate the decoration from the substance because he uses his faculties.

The difference between the pupil's reading of his lesson and the story of a ball game in which he took part is the difference between doing a thing mechanically as a task and doing something in which one is intensely interested.

THE GOOD GREEN COUNTRY

VACATION JOYS, like most others, are sweetest when simplest.

Many people are planning elaborate vacation trips at expense they cannot well afford, will put up with high priced inconveniences they would not tolerate at home, and will come back more tired than when they went away.

But out of the dirt and rattle and confusion of the town there is easy escape in the shady, silent woods that are cool, clean, sweet, odorless, musical, in the smiling fields, the laughing brooks and the placid lakes, not far from home.

Here is real rest for worn nerves and true quickening of the flagging spirit.

What a noble gift to mankind are the trees! How pleasantly their shadows fall upon us when we turn to them from the glitter and turmoil of the hot town! The breath of heaven seems to linger in the whispering branches, and the sunshine sifts through the swaying leaves like a benediction purified.

In the close application to the detail of our daily work we are apt to distort the perspective of our purposes. We are apt to plod on through habit and forget our higher aims. Maybe some of us never have any. Then all the more do we need a time of solitude and dream. Men without definite aims and purposes beyond mere means of comfortable existence are animals on two legs with nothing to recompense the loss of the monkey tail.

It is good once in a while to get away from the hurly-burly and take a little while to dream, to form ideas, to shape and direct purposes, to realize what the noisy striving is all for.

VACATIONS FROM MARRIAGE URGED

TOLEDO, O., March 23.—(United Press).—"Love desperately, don't 'pet' promiscuously, and marry young" is the advice of the Rev. Stephen K. Mahon of the Epworth Methodist Church here gives to the youth.

"Petting parties are dangerous because they are bad morally, physically and spiritually," Rev. Mahon advises. "Sometimes husbands and wives think they don't love one another any more and should separate. They are just 'fed up' on each other."

"What they need is not divorce," he cautions, "but separate 'accidents.' They should get away from each other for a while."

GOOD COCOANUT COOKIES

The housekeeper who can make delicious coconut cookies, is in a position to serve afternoon tea and "little cakes" at any time. For these cookies will keep tender for days and days, and are especially good with a cup of tea. The following recipe is one I use constantly in my own home. It makes four dozen and six or eight additional cookies, even when the uncooked discs of dough measure one-third inch in height. My cutter measures not quite two and one-half inches in diameter (of course it has no hole, like a doughnut cutter). When baked, the cookies are about one-half inch high in the middle, tapering off at the edges. They are a delicate brown in color and have soft interiors although firm exteriors.

Cocoa-nut Cookies: Begin by putting one-fourth cup of lard into a mixing bowl. Cream this, then add one heaping tablespoon of butter. When the two

It is best to roll only one-half this amount of dough at a time, especially if your bread board is not the largest size. Dip the cookie cutter into flour each time before you cut another disc from the dough. Use a floured pancake turner to lift the little discs onto the greased baking pans. Many housewives prefer butter or lard to grease their pans, but for cookies I generally use vegetable cooking oil. I apply it to the pans with a small, white-bristled paint brush.

I like my coconut cookies sprinkled lightly with a little extra granulated sugar before baking. But many women brush their tops with egg-white and then sprinkle with coconut and sugar before baking. Have your oven medium-hot (about 400 degrees F.) and bake at this temperature for 15 minutes.

GOLF

Golf is a curious game, as all have found. Who've ever ventured out to play a round, One day the ball will hold the line for you, The next it won't in spite of all you do; One day your putts into the cup will drop The next they falter, reach the lip and stop. Study and practice, struggle as you may To every golfer comes his dreary day.

This thing called skill is subtle at the best, If every golfer honestly confessed He'd tell you that he'd never understood Just why the other day he was so good; There's much about the game he can't explain, Luck is the father of both joy and pain. We smile today to see our putts go down, They rim the cup tomorrow and we frown.

Yet golf is rich in this—that all who play Can find some joy to light the dreary day, No game is quite so bad, but what it gives One happy shot, which long remembered, lives; And he who loses can look back and see One sunny place where it was good to be, For life goes forward very much the same Whether a man be on or off his game.

Look to the golfer, when his luck is bad Does he recall the fortune he has had? Is he still grateful for his sunny days Or does he mar your pleasure when he plays? Is victory so important that he sees Nothing to life or golf, but victories? Bad golf or good! what matters, if it ends In the brave fellowship of honest friends?

SIDELIGHTS
ON
Greene County History

FIRST SETTLERS

First settlers of Greene County were from Kentucky, Scotchmen of old Seeder stock, but most of the people who settled in Greene County originally came from Virginia. There was, however, a sprinkling of Pennsylvanians and Carolinians.

As a rule they were the merchant, the farmer, the mechanic, the soldier, and the politician, ready to enforce and make the law, to build the mill, to protect the country in time of war and put their hands to the plow or anything as the time might require.

The old blockhouse near the home of Peter Borders, the house in which the county's first court was held, later became the improvised jail for the community. There was an early need for such a place to lodge law violators.

Streams of pioneers gradually became greater and thousands loaded themselves and necessities into primitive arks or flatboats and floated down the Ohio River to find new homes.

Many of these settlers, natives of Pennsylvania and Virginia, became newcomers in Greene County. Their outfit consisted of the smallest amount of bed clothing, a few iron and pewter utensils, an ax, an auger, a flintlock rifle, a knife and a plow.

After the emigrant reached his destination, his rude bark was dismantled and the lumber sold or used in erection of the cabin or barn. On arriving at Cincinnati, the new settler of Greene County would load his family and few belongings into an ox-drawn wagon and strike out northward through the Miami country to this section.

When the pioneer reached this country, he found the older settler ready to lend a helping hand and share his cabin with the new family temporarily. As soon as possible after the emigrant located, his neighbors appointed a day for the house raising and he was firmly established in the community.

ADVICE

The cheapest counsel in this world is advice. That's why so many people give it away. Advice should be something to keep until asked for. We all need suggestions to guide us along the way. But advice should be sought or else its power for helpfulness becomes doubtful.

You see, advice that you give to someone else may have been thought out as good advice for yourself but turn out to be the worst possible for another. Circumstances often wither the best of advice so that it is in the way.

To keep one's mouth shut is an accomplishment both rare and refreshing. The lawyer sells his advice. And the client gladly pays a great sum to his lawyer because he has faith in his advice. There are so many things that we could give away and which make other people very happy, so that advice really takes a back seat and is of little importance excepting when highly cultivated, through experience or special study and research.

How many times we have given our advice only to see it come back to us in a very unhappy state of mind and full of blame. But kindness, generous impulses that have been put to action, sincere love, encouragement, inspiring words, never come back except when they return with interest compounded again and again.

Seek advice, but do not give it.

MODISH MITZI-It's Shame the Way the Goofer Wastes Time By JAY V. JAY

"It's not that I don't like you a lot," Mitzi is explaining to the Goofer. "It's just that I adore men who do things, and you waste your time on trifles... you should find something serious and important to do. What do you think of this hat?"

"You see, it's one of those new hats—soft felt and just made by the way the creases are put in. The thing to do is to have the hat fitted on your head with the sort of creases that are right for you. Do you like it better this way or the first way?"

"Oh, do be a darling, won't you? Aunt Sophia told me to go to the caterer's about her dinner next Monday. Will you see him for me? And get my watch at the jeweler's as you go, by? I think this way this hat looks even better. It gives a beret effect."

"Don't forget to do those errands for me, Mitzi. I meant to do them myself, but it's a lot like this. You just right, it's absolute wrong. And don't forget always count!" And the Goofer keeps on saying what I said—it's the men who do big things that nothing.

Pupils Defeat Teachers On Basketball Court

STUDENTS MASTERS OF FACULTY IN TILT TO FINANCE DINNER

First String Five Shows Up Coach's Team 29-19

That students at Central School are at least the masters of their teachers in athletics was demonstrated Tuesday afternoon when Central's star first team administered a neat 29 to 19 trimming to the faculty of the school in a special benefit game.

Proceeds of the contest, amounting to more than $20 will be used to help finance a proposed banquet for members of the court squad soon. Letters will probably be awarded at the banquet.

Central's regulars started off in whirlwind fashion with the evident intention of "rubbing it in" on the faculty opponents and succeeded in running up an 18 to 6 advantage at the half.

The faculty hit its stride in the second half and although "showing up" its younger and more experienced opponents in point of scoring, failed to reduce the large margin gained earlier in the game.

Coach Victor Kolb, former all-Olio star at Ohio Wesleyan University, was held in check by the first stringers during the first part of the game, but evaded guards long enough to pile up ten points as the game progressed to lead both teams in scoring.

Bob Finlay, Central's forward sensation, did the bulk of the scoring for his team with nine counters followed by Scurry with seven and Stearns with six. Captain Huston was held to one point, a foul.

VISITORS DEFEAT COLORED ALL STARS ON CENTRAL COURT

Although apparently playing below form, the Chicago "50" club, basketball champions of Chicago in 1925, proved superior to the Xenia Colored All-Stars, defeating the local quintet 25 to 19 at Central High School gym, Tuesday night.

Locals were weakened by the absence from the lineup of Delbert Hubbard, famous Cincinnati negro athlete, but made an excellent showing against the invaders. The visiting champions encountered difficulty in locating the net and wasted many shots, but overcame this handicap by brilliant passwork to retain possession of the ball most of the game.

Game was one of the fastest and cleanest of the season.

East High School Alumni defeated the Xenia Celtics by a score of 41 to 40 in the preliminary in a contest which rivaled the main game in interest.

GLASS JOINS TEAM IN VIRGINIA LOOP

Lauris Glass, Alpha, who signed up to pitch with the Wilson Athletic Club, Wilson, N. C., in the Virginia State League during the coming season, departed to join his team Monday night.

Local baseball enthusiasts expect much from the Alpha lad, who was formerly star member of the hurling staff of the Bowersville Haytiffs last season.

Glass is a tall right-hander weighing 186 pounds, and under instruction, is expected to develop into a fine twirler. The Wilson A. C. nine is one of the strongest teams in the state league, playing Class B baseball.

Baggenbagg Wins Way to Fore Among Kentucky Derby Hopes

E. R. Bradley, master of Idle Hour Farm, near Lexington, Ky., and ruler of Bradley's, famed Palm Beach gambling resort, is counting on scoring another victory in the Kentucky Derby, turf classic, with Baggenbagg and Boot-to-Boot, as a result of the stirring one-two victory of the colts in the Louisiana Derby at New Orleans. Photos show the finish and the winner, Baggenbagg.

After a campaign extending over several years, the government tax on sporting goods is being slowly removed along with important personal taxes.

The new revenue bill, passed a few weeks ago, was kind to golf players and trap and rifle marksmen.

Notice was sent out by counsel for the United States Golf Association a few days ago that all clubs throughout the country need not include in their 1925 tax returns the amounts collected as green fees by individuals for the privilege of playing on courses of which they were not members.

The announcement was made as a result of a discovery that hundreds of thousands of dollars have been improperly and unnecessarily paid by golf clubs on the assumption that green fees were in the same class as dues and admission fees to places of amusement. These taxes, in spite of a campaign to have them exempted, still have to be included in the returns, however.

The excise tax on sporting arms

(which does not include revolvers and pistols) and ammunition has been repealed and millions of sportsmen are rejoicing.

The repeal of the tax immediately means a reduction in the cost of shooting at the traps, on the rifle range, and in the field.

In the neighborhood of $18,000,000 has been paid into the United States Treasury in the last six years by those who sought pleasure in shooting at clay targets, on the rifle range and in the field and those who hunted game to provide food.

Through the War Department several million dollars is spent annually in fostering rifle shooting in the Civilian Military Training Camps, the R. O. T. C. and the National Matches and then Congress made it extremely difficult for those embryo riflemen to continue the program. The Military folks laid out for them because of the excessive and needless tax. The tax has been most injurious to the development of shooting. It has caused many to retire from competition and has prevented many others from taking it up.

BEAVER HIGH BASKET BALL TEAMS HONORED AT BANQUET TUESDAY

Members of Beaver Creek High School boys' and girls' basketball teams were tendered a banquet at the Knights of Pythias Hall in Beaver Tuesday night, sponsored by parents of the players in recognition of one of the most successful seasons in years.

Between 125 and 150 supporters of the teams attended the banquet. W. W. White, coach of both teams presided as toastmaster. Toast to the captains was delivered by W. R. Sayrs, musical instructor and the response was made by Miss Mary Coy. Among the short talks on the speaking program were made to the "crew" by A. A. Neff, member of the school faculty; to the "stokers" by Miss Lucille Tanner, student; to the "steam" by Robert Thompson, student; to the "wireless room" by Stephen Stedman, an alumnus, and to the "harbor" by Kenneth Hawker.

Refreshments were served and ice cream and decorations were carried out in colors of orange and black.

Coach White presented the championship girls' sextet with a silver loving cup on behalf of the Greene County Athletic Association, which becomes permanent possession of school for the team's feat in taking second place in the girls' division of the county cage loop the past season.

Beaver girls also won two other cups as trophies during the season. The girls took first place in the first annual "invitational" tournament sponsored by Ross Twp. High School and won the twelfth annual County High School Basketball Tournament at Antioch College.

The three cups were displayed on the table reserved for the players. Beaver boys took fourth place in the county league, fourth position in the Ross tourney and were eliminated in the first round at Antioch.

In recognition of his services for the teams during the season, Coach White was presented with a tennis racket by Edward Jacobs, captain of the boys' team, on behalf of the players.

Musical entertainment was furnished by the high school orchestra under direction of Mr. Sayrs.

CHRIST POINTS OUT ROUTE TO ETERNAL PRIZE SAYS PASTOR

Evangelist H. Elmer Pemberton, speaking Tuesday night at the Friends Church, took his text from the Gospel of St. Luke, where Jesus told the Pharisees that He came to "seek and save the lost." "Jesus is and compared Him to Freomont, who blazed the trail to the western gold fields. "Many there failed to find gold," the speaker said, "but there is a sure prize at the end of life's race for those who are willing to make the sacrifice."

The evangelist stated that when the proud and haughty Pharisee complained that Jesus had gone to them that was His only purpose in coming to this earth was to "seek and save the lost," and that He had dedicated His life to this purpose.

The speaker emphatically declared that dedication of life to service would carry any person through and this, he said, is what the gospel is calculated to help one do.

"Service is what made Lincoln great, and Lincoln's work for humanity is only a small picture of the great work of Jesus for man. Sin is the great slaveholder of the world, it binds the strongest and deludes the most intelligent but Christ is the great Emancipator who sets us free."

The evangelist made the following "Pembertonians" in the course of his lecture: "America has been spared to save the world. The public school is unique in solving our social problems. Denominations are doors opening into the kingdom of God. You seldom find a gossip in the front seat at prayer meeting. We are all our Father's children, but He has a lot of bad children. Lord make us big enough to see our smallness. Religion cannot be made vital through creed, but through life."

Shake-ups in the standing resulted when upsets occurred in Tuesday night's games in the individual city bowling tournament.

Earl Gannon, high individual average man in the Xenia Bowling League, recovered his stride, and amassed a three-game total of 624 to take three successive games from White in the Class A match.

Fred Horner continued in fine form to win the odd game in three from Brickie in the Class B series, and Perry Swindler won two in three from Anderson in the Class C games.

Fred Horner won the middle game from Brickie only after spectacular bowling on the part of both ten pin artists. Horner rolled a fine 237 score to beat his opponent by six pins.

Class A results:

White 182 182 163

Gannon 224 193 207

Mrs. Kate Miller

Lima, Ohio—"Before coming to Lima I was in a very bad condition. I would take spells of coughing and vomiting until I finally became so weak I could not go. Doctors said my case was serious, but they did not seem to know what was the matter. I was advised, finally, to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, so I discarded everything else and started taking it. I followed the directions and in a short time I was well. Words cannot express my thanks for this medicine which I feel sure saved my life.—Mrs. Kate Miller, 210 S. Union St.

Dr. D. J. Evans, pastor of First Baptist church, Kansas City, Mo., is the center of a lively controversy because he attacked the Old Testament as standing in the way of international harmony. He assails "teachings which glorify such tipplers as Noah (see reproduction from Bible above), such prevaricators as Abraham and Jacob, and such Lotharios as David."

"Not Possible To Classify"

By Mack Sauer

WANTED—To swap spring hat, worn only three weeks. A-1 shape for suit for red flannel underwear, pair of ear muffs or what have you? See Mack Sauer or Phone No. 111.

My Easter outfit will consist of red flannels, felt hat, felt boots, in fact, everything will be felt but the cold. I am determined not to feel it.

IT'S AN ILL WIND—

Still, when summer comes. There trouble lies. For then we have To swat the flies.

The snow is often referred to as "the beautiful," but only the coal dealer sees anything beautiful about it these days. It gives the rest of us a lump in our throats. And it takes the lumps from our basements.

I can remember of hearing folks talk a few months back about how many more tons of coal they used this year than last, but now they're telling how many more they used this year than they did in the last five years put together.

CAN'T DO IT

"I'd planned to buy a car," said Dad. "But my coal bill took All the jack I had."

Skating races will be held on the Wilson Pool on the Fourth of July. Bon fires will be arranged for picnickers. Many coasting parties are being planned.

The robins which arrived a few weeks ago are returning to Florida. They are probably of the opinion that we have very short summers up here in these parts.

MISS THE DANDELION

"One thing I miss," Said Harry Lion, "Is the drink I make From the dandelion."

One Main street lady found a bunch of what she thought were small pieces of wire in her back yard the other day. They turned out to be fishing worms frozen to death. The early bird may get the worm, but that will do him no good. The worm will be frozen so stiff he can't eat it.

Police officials have requested boys to refrain from throwing snow balls on Memorial Day. The trip to the cemeteries will be made on skates and on account of the dangerous streets the G. A. R. boys will not be expected to participate. Phone an ad to Phone No. 111.

RAILROAD REFORM IS WORKED IN ITALY UNDER MUSSOLINI!

ROME, March 24.—A deficit of sixty million dollars on the operation of the Italian State railroads has been turned into a profit of ten millions under the Mussolini regime.

Nine railroad employees per mile was the rule in 1922; now it is six. The amount of freight handled was 29 million tons in 1922. This increased to 63 million tons in 1925.

These are some of the figures which show the revolution worked in railroad methods under the present government.

Before the Fascist cause triumphed the railroad system of Italy boasted the major "red" union of the country. Though there was a nominal eight hour day, the railroad employees union by counting the time the men spent in coming and going from their work, succeeded in reducing the effective working hours to about six and some times even less.

Eight of the eleven colleges of the university were represented in the class. Geographically it included students from more than eighty Ohio communities, besides ten other states, the District of Columbia, Japan and China. The principal address was given by Prof. Henry R. Spencer, chairman of the department of political science.

The Theatre

In fifty-six pictures Cecil De Mille has produced, fifty-four have been financial successes. He says frankly that he considers the two failures the most artistic.

DeMille is a consummate actor—An eleven hundred acre ranch used for exteriors is not far distant.

DeMille was one of the first to get away from "flat lighting." He saw the value of giving shadow and form to his screen images and enhancing their dramatic value. He really does know a great deal about photography and lighting. He spent one hundred thousand dollars in getting the trick effect of the dividing of the Red Sea in "The Ten Commandments." It was one of the most astonishing things ever done with a camera.
